

One key to effective leadership is learning to ask a better question of yourself and others around you. In John Miller's QBQ he focuses on a technique to do just that! A posting of the following in a highly visual place will support your whole team in taking a more effective leadership stance...

QBQ MANTRA:

Don't ask why, when or who, they, them, we or you!

Instead ask what or how

And use I with action!